

Another trip to heaven! I collected straw to top dress my raised beds

4 " below the straw, the worms are active (as it is moist and warm).

2" under this, there are hoards of them. I bought back half a bucket full to put in my leaf mold bins!!

Eight bags were rammed in the back of the car! Although because of the shit flies, I had to drive back with all windows open and breathe through my nose!! It's worth it though...
